

Contents

| | |
|--------------------|---|
| Introduction | 1 |
|--------------------|---|

I. Ancient Predecessors of Narratology

| | |
|--|----|
| Stephen Halliwell The Theory and Practice of Narrative in Plato | 15 |
| Richard Hunter The Trojan Oration of Dio Chrysostom and Ancient Homeric Criticism | 43 |
| René Nünlist Narratological Concepts in Greek Scholia | 63 |

II. Narratology – New Concepts

| | |
|---|-----|
| Irene de Jong Metalepsis in Ancient Greek Literature | 87 |
| Egbert J. Bakker Homer, Odysseus, and the Narratology of Performance | 117 |
| Deborah Beck Speech Act Types, Conversational Exchange, and the Speech Representational Spectrum in Homer | 137 |
| Jonas Grethlein Philosophical and Structuralist Narratologies – Worlds Apart? .. | 153 |

III. Narratology and the Interpretation of Epic and Lyric Poetry

| | |
|---|-----|
| Evanthia Tsitsibakou-Vasalos Chance or Design? Language and Plot Management in the Odyssey . Klytaimnestra ἄλοχος μνηστή ἐμήσατο | 177 |
| Marios Skempis – Ioannis Ziogas Arete's Words: Etymology, Ehoie -Poetry and Gendered Narrative in the Odyssey | 213 |
| Lucia Athanassaki Narratology, Deixis, and the Performance of Choral Lyric. On Pindar's First Pythian Ode | 241 |
| Georg Danek Apollonius Rhodius as an (anti-)Homeric Narrator: Time and Space in the Argonautica | 275 |
| Evina Sistikou 'Snapshots' of Myth: The Notion of Time in Hellenistic Epyllion | 293 |
| Theodore D. Papanghelis Aeneid 5.362–484: Time, Epic and the Analeptic Gauntlets . . | 321 |

IV. Narratology and the Interpretation of Tragedy

| | |
|--|-----|
| Francis Dunn Sophocles and the Narratology of Drama | 337 |
| Marianne Hopman Layered Stories in Aeschylus' Persians | 357 |
| Seth L. Schein Narrative Technique in the Parodos of Aeschylus' Agamemnon . | 377 |
| Anna A. Lamari Knowing a Story's End: Future Reflexive in the Tragic Narrative of the Argive Expedition Against Thebes | 399 |
| Ruth Scodel Ignorant Narrators in Greek Tragedy | 421 |

V. Narratology and the Interpretation of Historiography

| | |
|--|-----|
| Christos C. Tsagalis | |
| Names and Narrative Techniques in Xenophon's Anabasis . . . | 451 |
| Nikos Miltsios | |
| The Perils of Expectations: Perceptions, Suspense and Surprise in Polybius' Histories | 481 |
| Christopher Pelling | |
| Seeing through Caesar's Eyes: Focalisation and Interpretation . | 507 |
| Chrysanthe Tsitsiou-Chelidoni | |
| History beyond Literature: Interpreting the 'Internally Focalized' Narrative in Livy's Ab urbe condita | 527 |
| Philip Hardie | |
| Fame's Narratives. Epic and Historiography | 555 |
| List of Contributors | 573 |
| Bibliography | 577 |
| General Index | 617 |
| Passages Index | 623 |